Assault An Loc Despite Bombs

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops and tanks smashed into An Loc again today despite saturation bombing by 70 U.S. B52s that rained more than 1,700 tons of explosives on the devastated provincial capital 60 miles north of Saigon. It was the war's heaviest concentration of B52s.

The U.S. Command reported one American adviser killed, a second wounded and two small Air Force spotter planes shot down in action around An Loc and Chon Thanh, a district capital 15 miles to the south. Two of the four crewmen aboard the planes were missing. The North Vietnamese appeared determined to turn An Loc into another Quang Tri, the northernmost provincial capital that fell May 1 after similar heavy assaults.

An Loc, under siege since April 7, is 85 per cent destroyed, but its capture by the North Vietnamese would be another blow to prestige of the Saigon and President Nixon's Vietnamization program.

The North Vietnamese hit An Loc with the heaviest artillery bombardment of the war Thursday, firing more than 7,000 rounds and following up with tank and infantry attacks.

The North Vietnamese resumed their heavy shelling and ground assaults from all sides shortly before 9 a.m. today. At least five tanks smashed into the northern end of the town, and enemy infantrymen fought their way into the western sector.

Government forces were reported to have retaken one block in the northeastern part of town.

Field reports indicated the situation was confusing, with the defense lines rapidly changing.

Fighting also erupted closer to Saigon.

The South Vietnamese command claimed 93 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed in two clashes just south of the Saigon-Phnom Penh highway 25 to 35 miles northwest of the South Vietnamese capital. Eleven South Vietnamese were reported killed and nine wounded.

Saigon's curfew was advanced an hour, to 10 p.m., and bars, night clubs and race tracks were ordered shut.

On the far northern front, below the demilitarized zone, U.S. officers told Associated Press correspondent Lynn C. Newland that the North Vietnamese were using Quang Tri city as a major supply base for their operations in the region.

U.S. Navy ships shelled Quang Tri for the first time, and officers said an ammunition dump and a fuel depot were the targets.

New fighting was reported seven miles southwest of Hue, near Fire Base Birmingham.

The commissioner of the Canadian delegation to the International Control Commission, David Jackson, reported today that much of Hanoi's civilian population has been moved into the countryside and some government offices have shut down because of the threat of U.S. air attacks on the North Vietnamese capital.

"A major evacuation of residents has taken place," Jackson reported. "No hard figures are available, but the city is not as busy as usual. What little industry there is has been affected. The greater the fear, the more complete the measures."

The Canadian delegation to the ICC has a four-man office in Hanoi, and Jackson visits there periodically.

A special supplement to The Sedalia Democrat-Capital, entitled "Pettis County Community Shelter Plan," will be distributed this Sunday and will offer instructions on where to go and what to do in the event of a nuclear attack.

Developed through a federal grant received by the Pettis County Civil Defense agency, the multi-color plan "should be studied and placed in a safe, easily accessible place for ready reference," Jerry Iuchs, Sedalia-Pettis County Civil Defense director said.

Additional copies of the plan will be available at the Civil Defense office, but Iuchs urged area residents to watch for the special supplement in Sunday's Democrat-Capital.

Senior Citizens Honored

The Sedalia Public Library celebrated Senior Citizens Day Friday with a program of music, arts and crafts exhibits and skits at Convention Hall. The purpose of the celebration was "to acquaint older people with the library and the facilities it offers them" according to Librarian Don Morton. About 150 elderly Pettis

Countians attended the day-long activities which included presentations by area schools, rest homes and organizations. Arrests Continuing

Vietnam Policy Protest Grows

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arrests continued to mount today as protests against America's new Vietnam policy moved through a fourth day.

The demonstrations centered mainly on college campuses as they have since beginning Monday night with President Nixon's announcement of plans to mine North Vietnamese ports. More than 1,000 persons have been arrested so far.

As the protests were renewed this morning, police arrested 44 more people blocking access to the Institute for Defense Analysis building at Princeton University in New Jersey. Most of those seized were students.

A crowd of 300 surged across the Cornell University campus at Ithaca, N.Y., early in the morning and smashed about 130 windows. Police drove them back with tear gas after a window was broken in a bank just off the campus.

In Lawrence, Kan., a crowd estimated at from 500 to 1,000 walked about 10 miles around the University of Kansas campus but was turned away from the downtown area by police, who arrested 27. Some windows were broken in the military sciences building.

A demonstration at Ohio State University in Columbus ended with 76 arrests and some 30 people injured, including 18 policemen. Windows were broken in the ROTC building and several shops bordering the campus.

About 1,000 protesters, mostly high school pupils, chanted antiwar slogans on the steps of the Capitol in Washington.

Ferrel Heady, president of the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, called off a state of emergency after a campus demonstration broke up about 1:30 a.m.

It was quiet this morning at the United Nations headquarters in New York, which was closed to tourists because of what officials termed "the rising tide of demonstrations."

Reports from across the country showed significant antiwar activity in at least 23 states and the District of Columbia. Violence appeared to ebb somewhat, however, and though there were more than 500 arrests most demonstrations were peaceful.

Despite the demonstrations, a poll conducted for the American Broadcasting Co. and aired on a special Vietnam program Thursday night indicated a majority of Americans support the president's decision.

Say Vessels Change Course

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon reported today that several merchant ships heading for North Vietnamese ports have apparently changed course because of the American mine blockade.

Officials refused to give any specifics or say where these ships are now headed. But it appears likely that some may have chosen instead to go to Chinese ports where their cargoes could be moved to North Vietnam by land routes.

Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim would say only that "several other ships" from the group of 25 that were headed for North Vietnam at the time the U.S. mines were laid Monday "may have diverted."

The survey based on 991 telephone interviews by Lieberman Research, Inc., found 59 per cent agreed with the mining, 28 per cent disagreed and 13 per cent had no opinion.

The United Nations was closed following a demonstration by 300 people and two incidents in which a group of protesters chained themselves inside the Security Council and another attempt to climb a fence outside.

Radical lawyer William Kunstler told the demonstration, "Now is the time to get to the streets. We are in the grip of a dictator. We should disrupt every public function."

The state of emergency at the University of New Mexico campus in Albuquerque followed an incident in which police fired shotguns and wounded at least 10 persons, none seriously.

Eight Are Drowned By Flash Flooding

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex. (AP) — A 90-minute cloudburst sent a wall of water crashing through residential sections of this river junction town today. Authorities said eight people drowned and 20 to 25 were unaccounted for.

Police Chief Royce Couch said 3,000 persons fled the raging waters of the Comal and Guadalupe rivers.

At one time, the rivers, which normally are about 25 feet wide, swelled to widths of 200 feet. The rain water, racing off hilly sections of the town, sent the rivers surging over their banks with little warning in the early morning hours.

The water began to recede about dawn. "It was fast," said Sheriff Walter Fellers. "We had one area up here I know that had 10 inches of rain in one and a half hours."

He could give no immediate figures on the number of homes washed away or damaged. Earlier, he estimated 15 to 20 houses were wiped out.

New Braunfels, a city of 20,000 situated between San Antonio and Austin sits in a valley at the juncture of the two rivers. The main business section is 40 to 50 feet above the water level and suffered no damage.

The flooded area is made up largely of residences and unoccupied land with some small industries.

In response to appeals from local officials, Gov. Preston Smith in Austin ordered National Guard units to help evacuate 100 to 125 families in New Braunfels and an undetermined number in San Marcos, 16 miles to the northeast, and Seguin, the same distance to the southeast.

Guardmen manned highwheeled trucks and other vehicles to reach people trapped by the rising waters.

Sen. Muskie Thinks McGovern May Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The man once considered the front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination—Edmund S. Muskie of Maine—says he thinks George McGovern might get the nomination on the first ballot.

But Muskie said Thursday he does not "at this moment" expect it to happen.

The Maine senator, who withdrew from the primary competition April 27, said Sen. McGovern could win the nomination on the first ballot if he carries the California primary June 6. A win by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey in California would give Humphrey a major boost in his candidacy, Muskie said, but, because of McGovern's current delegate lead and Humphrey's absence from the New York primary on June 20, "The California primary gives Sen. McGovern a greater opportunity."

Muskie made his comments on the interview program "Thirty Minutes With" by the National Public Affairs Center for Television.

In other political news Thursday, McGovern moved ahead of Humphrey in the race for delegates from Nebraska's primary. McGovern won the popularity part of that contest Tuesday but delegate selection votes have not yet been completely tabulated.

The latest vote totals showed 12 of the delegate front runners committed to McGovern with 10 to Humphrey.

Humphrey, meanwhile, appeared to be leading the delegate races in West Virginia, where he smashed Alabama Gov. George Wallace in a popularity contest Tuesday.

Scattered reports and light returns for delegate candidates showed 14 of the front runners committed to Humphrey with 7 to McGovern and 5 for Muskie. Nine of the front runners are uncommitted.

Neither Muskie nor McGovern entered the popularity part of the West Virginia primary.

Another presidential candidate dropped out of the primary battle Thursday when Rep. Wilbur Mills told a news conference he would be a compromise candidate at the convention.

Mills, D-Ark., had not fared well in the primary contests.

Education Tax—II

Kindergarten Needed

"A child miseducated is a child lost."

— John F. Kennedy

By BOB SHEUE
Democrat-Capital Staff Writer

Barbara Freund, 1414 New England Drive, has taught in the Sedalia school system for 10 years. Presently a second grade instructor at Heber Hunt, she has requested a post as kindergarten teacher next fall should the Tuesday levy increase proposal gain the necessary simple majority.

Right now Miss Freund doesn't know whether to take inventory on her second grade materials and prepare for the move to kindergarten next school year, or maintain her status quo. She hopes she'll have a chance to thoroughly clean her classroom closet.

"The private kindergarten is fine," she said, "if you can afford it. If you're in the lower income bracket you might qualify for the Head Start program, which is also good," she added, "but if you find yourself a member of that vast majority somewhere between the economic extremes," she stressed, "there's no kind of pre-school training available for your children in Sedalia."

Recalling her 12 years of teaching experience in suburban Kansas City and Sedalia, Miss Freund firmly believes students without kindergarten training are at a definite disadvantage in first grade in that they "may not know their letters and may not have proper numbers readiness."

All Would Benefit

Miss Freund explained that with kindergarten classes throughout the Sedalia school system, it would be possible to provide a general readiness program to serve all children from families — rich, poor or otherwise. "Right now," she said, "with the situation we have here, we're not serving everybody."

Although early education is constantly gaining more advocates as a necessary part of the learning experience, Miss Freund said, the idea of kindergarten in American schools is more than 100 years old. "Practically every other school system in this part of the state has kindergarten. Sedalia is the only area town or city I'm sure doesn't have such training in the public schools," she said.

Miss Freund said she is intrigued by the idea of teaching kindergarten where she feels she can deal with youngsters at their most receptive age, adding that good early supervision might reap benefits for children throughout their education.

"I feel children are really 'ripe' at four or five," she said, "and if they're provided with a good beginning, who knows how it may reflect on the rest of their education."

She also explained that in the kindergarten classroom it is easier to spot children who are going to have a problem. "If you're trained to look for possible learning disabilities, you can catch them earlier and possibly help the student overcome them before they advance to the more formal, competitive situation of first grade," she said.

Maturity Important

Miss Freund believes kindergarten would provide a good opportunity to retain a child for a year if necessary, explaining that it would be to the student's advantage to gain a year of maturity before attempting first grade, and possibly remaining at a disadvantage for the rest of his years in school.

"The basic goals of teaching kindergarten," Miss Freund said, "include administering readiness tests, showing

"Right now we're at the crossroads of education in Sedalia. We either go ahead or we become stagnant."

children how to react in a group situation apart from a family situation, imparting good manners in a group and the understanding of respect and responsibility in dealing with others."

She explained that kindergarten also provides children with a chance to learn letters and phonics, as well as studying art, music, basic science and, of course, physical education.

"There is a play aspect and an academic aspect to kindergarten," Miss Freund said. "You can get an introduction to the basics of education, learn how to behave

Sedalia's Salvation Army Is 86 Years Old

By P. C. THOMAS
Democrat-Capital Staff Writer

Across the nation, May 8-14 is being observed as Salvation Army Week with posters emphasizing the humanitarian service of the "red seal" organization and appeals for public support.

The Salvation Army set up its headquarters in Sedalia in 1886 — just six years after the London-based international organization adopted that title. The Salvation Army had its origin in England in 1865 when William Booth preached on the streets of England bringing a message of Christian hope to the masses.

The Salvation Army came to the United States in 1880.

The basic philosophy of the religious and philanthropic organization is "Heart to God, hand to man," according to Major Marjorie Weber, commanding officer for Pettis and Benton counties.

The local Salvation Army headquarters is at 120 East Fifth, where religious services are held every week for people of all ages. Besides the regular Sunday worship service, the Salvation Army here holds Golden Agers activities for the aged, Girl Guards, Sun Beams and Cub Scouts for youngsters.

Major Weber, who has been a Salvation Army officer for nearly 23 years, said she hopes a senior citizens' center can be set up at the headquarters building. This would be possible when the present clothing distribution center in the building is shifted to another building for which the Salvation Army is currently negotiating.

Describing the role of the Salvation Army, Major Weber said, "We are the only organization here that aids transients. People who are not eligible for public assistance can come to us for temporary aid. Also, we seek to minister to unwed mothers and rehabilitate alcoholics. Of all the 11 organizations receiving United Fund money in Sedalia, the Salvation Army is the only one working with senior citizens. Twenty-eight per cent of Pettis County's population is 55 and over."

Major Weber, who was the area delegate to the recent White House Conference on Aging, serves on the Sedalia Council on Aging, and was recently elected vice-president of the Sedalia-Pettis County Ministers Association.

Pipeline

Delay Is Requested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three environmental groups asked the federal district court here today to block the proposed issuance of federal permits for a trans-Alaska oil pipeline.

They contended that oil companies and the State of Alaska have, together, requested rights-of-way far exceeding the legal permit powers of the secretary of the Interior.

Secretary of Interior Rogers C. B. Morton announced Thursday his decision, after two years of review, to issue right-of-way permits for construction of the controversial pipeline.

The project has been stalled since 1970 by a preliminary injunction granted by federal Judge George L. Hart to the Wilderness Society, Friends of the Earth, and Environmental Defense Fund.

The three groups had also requested a permanent injunction and that request is still pending.

In today's motion, they asked Hart for a summary judgment on one aspect of their injunction request, leaving others aside for the moment.

That one contention, which alone could block the pipeline if Hart accepts it, revolves around the 1920 mineral leasing law.

The law authorizes the Secretary of Interior to grant right-of-way for a pipeline across federal land no wider than the pipeline itself plus 25 feet on each side.

The 800-mile-long pipeline proposed by feet in diameter and its right-of-way would therefore be limited to 54 feet.

But Alyeska has also requested an additional strip of land 46 feet wide running the length of the pipeline right-of-way, as a temporary construction area for which the Secretary could issue a "special use" permit.

Pumping stations and other facilities would require areas even wider.

Highway

Officials

Honored

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Twenty-five highway maintenance supervisors whose road crews experienced no serious accidents during 1971 were honored here Thursday at a luncheon with the state Highway Commission.

Commission Chairman Jack Stapleton Sr. and Chief Engineer Robert N. Hunter presented the awards to the supervisors, who accepted on behalf of their crews.

"Compiling a perfect record is considered particularly outstanding," said Director of Highways Thomas A. David, "because maintenance men frequently are involved in hazardous work, such as repairing roads under heavy traffic, operating heavy equipment, mowing right-of-way, and conducting snow removal and ice-control operations."

Employees honored and the number of years they've had perfect records were:

District 1: Curtis A. Schmitt, Maryville, two years; and Virgil E. Henderson, St. Joseph, three years.

District 2: Lloyd L. Dotson, Princeton, two years; Albert A. Enderle, Milan, two years; George M. Gatlin, Unionville, four years; and Wendell E. Harrison, Kirksville, four years.

District 3: William D. Gaines, Canton, nine years; James M. Fishback, Hannibal, nine years; and Harold W. Gordy, Bowling Green, two years.

District 4: Glendon Bernier, Clinton, two years; Robert Charles, Warsaw, one year; and Harold Stewart, Carrollton, 13 years.

District 5: Paul Frevert, Fulton, three years; Elwood Jacobs, California, 10 years; Paul Radmacher, Linn, 12 years.

District 6: Eugene George, Gerald, two years; Leonard W. Peters, Potosi, five years; and Ralph H. Cowan, Perryville, two years.

District 7: Orville L. Nicholas, Butler, five years; and Wilbur L. Dennis, Neosho, two years.

District 8: Eugene H. Beard, Lebanon, six years; and Buddy Dixon, Bolivar, two years.

District 9: Russell D. Whitman, Salem, 19 years; and Herbert A. Tanner, Ava, six years.

District 10: Billy N. Carroll, Sikeston, four years.

Miner Is

Convinced

By Offer

KELLOGG, Idaho (AP) — "I've had enough," said Ron Flory, a 28-year-old silver miner who never has known another trade.

"I'm taking Gov. Cecil Andrus' offer to relocate and be retrained for another job."

Flory and his buddy, Tom Wilkinson, 29, are the only men rescued among 93 miners trapped by fire, gas and smoke when flames erupted in the Sunshine mine on May 2. Flory and Wilkinson were found one week later and the governor then made his offer.

Rescue crews found 44 bodies in a 24-hour period from Wednesday to Thursday night, bringing the death toll to 91. Another 108 of the original 201 working in the mile-deep Sunshine complex got out quickly when the fire struck.

Wilkinson has said he probably still would be a miner. But Flory was adamant.

Some of his despair was reflected throughout Kellogg's 7,000 population when the last seven bodies were discovered Thursday night.

KRMS Employee

Killed In Accident

CAMDENTON, Mo. (AP) — A head-on collision of two cars about five miles east of Camdenton Thursday evening took the life of an employee of radio station KRMS, Osage Beach, Mo.

The Highway Patrol identified the victim as Phyllis Hair, 37, a news writer and secretary for the radio station, where she had been employed for nine years. She was a native of Manhattan, Kan.

The patrol reported the woman's car was struck head-on by a second vehicle driven by Jay Adcox, 21, of Knob Noster, Mo., which the patrol said was traveling in the wrong lane. The car driven by Miss Hair was knocked over a 100-foot embankment.

Adcox was taken to a hospital in Jefferson City, Mo.

Hospital Volunteers Are Honored For Work Here

"Across the country this week hospitals will be doing their thing..." Bothwell Hospital administrator Donald Feedback said Thursday night at the State Fair Community College student union where Bothwell Hospital observed National Hospital Week, by paying tribute to members of its auxiliary and the Gray Lady volunteers.

Members of both organizations were presented pins for their 25 years of service, certificates and patches for the contributions to hospital service.

Mrs. Edward (Ida) Hoffman, 300 West Fifth, chairman of the Gray Ladies, and Mrs. Harley (Eula) Vaughn, Quincy Apartments, were given special recognition for their service. They will complete 29 years of work for the hospital July 1. Both women joined the organization at Whiteman AFB in 1943 and came to Bothwell Hospital in 1946.

Feedback told the assembly of women "it's people like you who make their hospital (patients) stay easier."

Hospital Board President Robert Gardner told the group "it's wonderful to have you in our partnership."

Feedback then briefly sketched construction plans for the hospital. He said a new pharmacy and a room for mechanical storage will be installed in the basement.

When the renovation is complete, emergency room facilities and an intensive care unit will be located in an addition to be constructed on the west end of the present building. The second floor will have 32 new beds. Feedback explained the addition will feature private rooms.

Rescued Dog

Taken Away

From Youths

The affection and interest shown by a young Sedalian for a reportedly mistreated dog netted him alleged verbal abuse and a blow to his leg below the knee with a baseball bat, according to a report given Sedalia police at 2:46 p.m. Thursday.

According to the police report, the woman said she had lost the dog two or three weeks ago, but that she had discovered it in the possession of some youngsters as she was driving through West Sedalia Thursday.

The youngsters told police they had found the dog about the time it was reportedly lost. They said it appeared to be very underfed and was plagued with parasites when it followed one of the youths to his home.

The youths claim they took the animal to a veterinarian for treatment and had fed it regularly for the past 2½ weeks. According to the police report, when the woman saw the dog with the youths Thursday she asked that they give it to her. The report says the youngsters asked her to prove she owned the dog and she allegedly told them the dog would enter her car when she called it.

However, when she did summon the dog it refused to obey, the report said, and remained with the children. Then the woman allegedly picked the dog up and placed it in her car, telling her children riding with her to hold the animal down. She then drove away, according to the report.

The youths reportedly went to her home and asked to be paid back for the veterinarian and food expenses, but the woman allegedly refused. The children then asked for the dog itself and she apparently refused again, picked up a nearby baseball bat and struck the youngster the dog had followed home.

The report said the youths were verbally threatened to leave her property after the one youngster was struck.

No charges have been filed, police records indicated Friday morning.

Soviet Destroyer

Is Steaming South

TOKYO (AP) — A Soviet cruiser and a missile-carrying destroyer were seen steaming southward through the Tushima Strait between Japan and the Korean peninsula, the Japanese Defense Agency reported today.

A spokesman for the agency declined to speculate whether the warships were bound for North Vietnamese waters to challenge President Nixon's attempt to cut off the delivery of Soviet war supplies to the Vietnamese Communists. But he said they were traveling at only about 10 knots, and the cruiser's maximum speed is 34 knots.

The spokesman said the cruiser, one of the 15,450-ton Sverdlov class, and the Kotlin class destroyer were the first Soviet naval vessels seen going south through the strait since the India-Pakistan war last December.

in a group, find out what to expect from school, and hopefully realize that education can be fun."

Miss Freund said she once reviewed a kindergarten program at the Hickman Mills school system.

"It was a great program," she enthused, "because the kids were really advanced in their phonics and writing. We could have the same kind of program in many ways here in Sedalia," she continued, "and I'm anxious to see it happen."

"Right now we're at the crossroads of education in Sedalia," she said. "We either go ahead or we become stagnant. There's no kindergarten and classes are crowded at the upper levels," she said, which she believes short-changes young Sedalians.

"It's so important for children to get off on the right foot in school," she concluded. "Otherwise a student might carry a negative feeling with him for the rest of his life."

Viet Air Aces

The Vietnam War has produced its first "fighter aces" in a spectacular 3-plane kill by a carrier-based F4 Phantom jet whose pilot and radar intercept officer now have five MIG planes to their

'Aces' Describe Air Fight

SAIGON (AP) — The sky over Hanoi Wednesday was "like a big circus ... plenty of MIGs for everyone," said one of the Vietnam war's first two aces today.

"They jumped us, not the other way around," said Lt. Randy Cunningham, 30, of San Diego, Calif. "I heard my wingman say 'break' and a MIG came by so close I could see the eyes of the pilot. There were MIGs all over the place, a shooting gallery."

"If you were chasing one MIG and he got away, it wasn't very long before another one got in front of you."

Cunningham and his radar operator, Lt. (j.g.) William Driscoll, 24, of Framingham, Mass., shot down three of the North Vietnamese jets Wednesday, giving them a total of five and earning for them the first "ace" designation of the war. Flying an F4 Phantom jet, they got their first MIG Jan. 19 and their second last Monday.

"My next ones will be tomorrow," said Cunningham, who was flown to Saigon with other Navy pilots from the carrier Constellation for a news conference.

Wednesday was "quite a day," said Cunningham. "We became Red River Valley rats (for flying strikes over Hanoi), we became aces and we were shot down by a missile."

He said only one of the North Vietnamese pilots he shot down ejected, and "he had a good chute. He didn't wave or anything when he went down, though."

He said he counted 12 MIG17s, two MIG19s and four MIG21s in the dogfight Wednesday.

"After my first kill, I started to get out of there when my executive officer came by with a MIG on his tail," Cunningham reported. "He was putting BB's over the exec's canopy, so I got rid of him. Then a third one flashed by, and I put a missile up his tail."

"In each kill, like all kills, there was a mistake made by the enemy pilot. But don't get me wrong, I saw mistakes made by F4s as well. It's just that the enemy pilots didn't capitalize on them."

"The feeling of being an ace isn't as great as that after the first kill. It was luck, but at least you know you have the capability. If the MIGs had been lucky with their cannon, they would be the ones sitting in front of a conference like this and I'd be a POW."

The missile which crippled Cunningham's and Driscoll's Phantom exploded "quite a way off," the pilot said. "I've had them explode a lot closer than that. But in 30 seconds I lost all my hydraulic systems. As we headed out over the water, I lost just about everything."

The "initial impact of what we'd done, being aces, didn't hit at that time," Driscoll commented. "We were more interested in getting out of there before the plane fell apart."

Daring Pilot Is Missing

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A daring pilot who once ate a peanut butter sandwich while making a parachute jump of 102,800 feet is missing after being shot down by enemy aircraft over North Vietnam.

Lt. Col. Joseph W. Kittinger Jr. went to Vietnam on his third tour of duty in May last year to "get a MIG," according to his mother, Mrs. Joseph W. Kittinger Sr., of Orlando.

Kittinger, 44, realized his goal March 2 when he shot down the 114th Russian-built MIG fighter plane destroyed by American pilots in Southeast Asia.

But on Thursday Kittinger's Phantom jet was shot down following an aerial duel only 17 days before he was to return to the United States for reassignment.

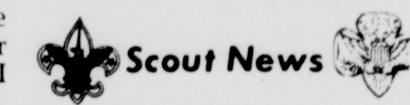

In the 1950s he was lauded in newspaper headlines as "the first man in space" when he rode a small gondola under a huge balloon to 96,000 feet on June 2, 1957.

The balloon was not designed to return the rider to earth, so Kittinger came back by parachute.

The World Book Encyclopedia's list of balloon altitude records credits Kittinger with making a record 102,800-foot jump on Aug. 16, 1960.

During the 4½-minute, 16-mile free fall before his parachute opened, Kittinger calmly munched on a peanut butter sandwich while watching the earth rush up at him at 614 miles per hour.

His balloon record was later superseded.

Await Pipeline Rulings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oil companies planning to build a pipeline across Alaska said they would not start construction, despite a favorable decision by the Interior Department, until pending court challenges are cleared up.

The announcement came after Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton said Thursday he would grant the right-of-way for a pipeline across Alaska in preference to an alternate route through Canada.

U.S. environment groups vowed to continue fighting the project.

Alyeska Pipeline Service Co., the consortium of seven oil companies proposing the project, said it would await the outcome of pending court challenges by environmental groups and Alaska fishing interests before starting construction. Alyeska said it was "extremely gratified" with Morton's decision.

Morton made no prediction when construction permits would be granted, saying only they "will be issued as soon as that can be done without violating any court order."

Dennis Flannery, Wilderness Society, Friends of Earth and Environmental Defense Fund, stated they will oppose the decision in court. The Sierra Club also announced it would continue opposing the pipeline.

Rep. Nick Begich, D-Alaska, who favors the project, estimated the legal battle could take another year, but seemed relieved that the case was going back to court, "out of the arena of emotionalism."

Attorneys for both sides scheduled informal conferences but no formal legal action was expected for a week or more.

Environmentalists got two new legal allies when a three-judge federal appeals court allowed David Anderson, a Canadian member of parliament, and the Canadian Wildlife Federation, to intervene in the case.

The Canadians argued the threat of oil spills from tankers carrying oil from the proposed pipeline past their west coast justified their intervention to defend their interests.

The appeals judges unanimously reversed a lower court ruling, saying "a mere recitation of appellants' contentions, plus a look at the map, makes it quite clear" the Canadians have a right to intervene.

Reverse Contempt Sentences

CHICAGO (AP) — Contempt sentences imposed against eight defendants and two lawyers during the controversial Chicago conspiracy trial have been reversed by a federal appeals court.

The 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals on Thursday ordered the charges returned to the U.S. District Court for jury trial. The court cited a 1971 Supreme Court decision which held that a trial judge should disqualify himself from contempt proceedings if the citations are not made until the end of the trial.

Judge Julius J. Hoffman sentenced Bobby G. Seale, chairman of the Black Panther party, to four years on 16 charges of contempt after he severed Seale's case and declared a mistrial six weeks after the trial began in September 1970.

Hoffman waited until Feb. 14, 1970, the day the jury adjourned to consider a verdict, before he cited the other seven defendants and two lawyers for contempt.

Five defendants were convicted Feb. 18, 1970, or crossing state lines to incite a riot at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention in Chicago. They were acquitted of conspiracy to do so. Two other defendants were acquitted of all charges, and the government did not retry Seale on the conspiracy charges.

The appeal of the riot convictions is still pending.

Leonard I. Weinglass of Newark, N.J., one of the Defense Lawyers cited for contempt, said in California he was disappointed by the appeals court ruling. The defendants had hoped the appeals court would overturn the sentences and not order a new trial.

Interviews In Prison Are Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Warren E. Burger Thursday temporarily stayed a federal court order directing the Bureau of Prisons to permit press interviews with certain inmates of federal penitentiaries.

The stay, granted at the request of the Justice Department, remains in effect until 6 p.m. Friday unless it is extended by the full Supreme Court which will discuss the subject at its conference that day.

Solicitor Gen. Erwin N. Griswold had told Burger, "serious hostility" among prisoners and other injury to the prison system could result if an April 5 ruling by District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell allowing prison interviews on a case-by-case basis is carried out while it is being appealed.

In a memorandum filed Wednesday, the Washington Post opposed the stay and called Griswold's argument about inmate hostility "frivolous." Gesell's ruling resulted from a suit by the Post and Ben H. Bagdikian, an editor who has written on prison conditions.

In 1950 Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) charged that the State Department was infested with Communists.

Misery Caused By Misinformation

Dear Dr. Lamb—My daughter had a very unhappy love affair and contracted gonorrhea. This happened 25 years ago. What I would like to know is, can she work in a hospital or restaurant? We know this kind of work requires a blood test. Would the test show that she has had this? She wouldn't want anyone to know that she had this problem.

She had a good doctor and was checked afterward for a long time. Thank God she had the good sense to go straight to the doctor. She has asked me several times about the blood test problem and I have never been able to give her an answer.

Dear Reader—Your letter is a beautiful testimony to the human misery that can be caused by misinformation or lack of information. I am sorry to say that you and your daughter have been needlessly concerned for nearly 25 years. The type of blood test that is used for various types of employment is for syphilis and is unrelated to gonorrhea.

As you state, your daughter was wise to go straight to the physician and if she was treated adequately at the time of the illness, there would be no evidence whatsoever that she had gonorrhea. This can be a serious disease but if it is treated immediately, there is minimal risk of residual difficulties. The most common complication that occurs in women is to have scarring or fibrosis of their tubes so that they are unable to have children. Of course, this problem also occurs from other causes besides gonorrhea.

I am sure that this information will help you and your daughter both to quit worrying about this. Your letter also demonstrates how people punish themselves through ill-advised guilt reactions.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have a thyroid deficiency and my scalp is dry and flakey. I am using an ointment and some shampoo. Can you recommend any special treatment?

Dear Reader—It is true that thyroid deficiency can cause scalp problems and even loss of hair. Of course, there are many more cases of individuals who lose hair with normal thyroids than there are with individuals with thyroid trouble. In any case, if you really have a deficient thyroid, the best treatment for your scalp and hair is to have adequate replacement of thyroid hormone.

The best approach to ointments and shampoos is to use as little as possible and use mild shampoos. In truth, harsh shampoos, many tints and rinses can actually irritate the scalp of some people. This can aggravate the problem rather than help it.

Chinese Intentions Said Clear

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, reporting to the Senate after a three-week trip to the Orient, said he is convinced China will not pressure North Vietnam into ending the war or releasing U.S. prisoners of war.

"The Chinese made clear their belief that the resumption of the bombing of the North could prolong rather than end the war," Mansfield said.

He added that Nixon's decision to mine North Vietnamese harbors "tarnished" the commander-in-chief's recent journey to Peking.

Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott described discussions with Premier Chou En-lai as "frank, candid and sometimes blunt." Mansfield added that Peking views the Vietnam war "as an attempt by the United States to dominate the political life of a region in which we have no business."

"The Chinese want a rapprochement with the United States, but they also want us out of Indochina," Mansfield said.

The report by the senator came at the same time Rep. Ron Dellums, D-Calif., published in the Congressional Record the secret "Kissinger" papers on the Vietnam war.

Dellums said he received them from Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, who earlier was prevented from publishing the war-options study in the congressional transcript.

The papers consisted of conflicting assessments of Vietnam strategy from several branches of government.

Meanwhile, it was reported that House Majority Leader Hale Boggs, D-La., and House Minority Leader Gerald Ford, R-Mich., would visit China June 23-July 8 at the invitation of Chinese officials.

Spectacular Fire Destroys Buildings

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — Three buildings were destroyed at a vacant feed mill complex east of the downtown area Thursday in a spectacular blaze that kept firemen busy through most of the night.

Flames shot several hundred feet into the air at the old Staley feed mill, a complex of wooden and mortar buildings ranging over a two block area. Heavy smoke and a red glow from the fire could be seen over a large part of metropolitan St. Louis.

Fire officials said they had trouble getting water to the fire. They let the abandoned buildings burn themselves out and concentrated on protecting nearby houses.

No injuries were reported. Cause of the fire was under investigation.

Tie Down Will Keep Hat on Your Head

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Judy's problem with a cowboy hat that is too large and blows off is very simple to solve. Buy two long leather shoe or boot laces. Put a very small hole in each side of the hat where the crown meets the brim and install eyelets, using a metal eyelet kit or work around the holes with the buttonhole stitch. Each hole is in the middle of a side.

Knot one end of one boot lace, put the other end into one hole from the underneath side, run halfway round the hat and back into the opposite hole from the top side and let it hang down inside. Do the same thing with the other lace starting in the hole with the one lace hanging in it and going round the hat in the other direction so you have a circle of lacing where the hat band is and a lace hanging down inside on each side. Take a wooden bead with an eye large enough to put both ends through it to slide up and down rather tightly. Knot the two ends below the bead so it does not slip off and have a fine tie down. My very good Stetson hat came this way. — MRS. A. J. P.

DEAR POLLY — By chance I happened to hang a plastic shoe bag on the shower rod over the tub. At once I conceived the idea of rolling up washcloths and small towels to put in the separate compartments so there is no more stepping out of the tub and dripping water on the floor while getting a forgotten washcloth or bar of soap. They are always handy and within reach. — ETHEL

The techniques of modern high-rise building construction are being applied horizontally in Colma, Calif., to burial grounds in the California Bay Area. A two and one-half acre plot of Holy Cross Catholic Cemetery

Predict Tax Reform Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon may send Congress a sweeping tax-reform bill this year, including possible consideration of a value-added tax, says Treasury Secretary John B. Connally.

Connally told a small group of newsmen Wednesday that if the President decides to send up tax-reform legislation, it will be a "basic, fundamental" proposal rather than loophole-closing ideas currently pending on Capitol Hill. The secretary doubted that a major tax-reform bill could be passed during a campaign year. "I would question the basic wisdom of trying to write a tax-reform bill between the conventions and the election," he said.

"He may well send some proposals to the hill," Connally said of Nixon, emphasizing that he wasn't speaking for the President. He added the list could include a value-added tax idea, "major simplification" of the tax structure, and a proposal on property taxes.

In recent times, it has taken major tax-reform bills at least a year, and usually longer to go through Congress.

Connally said he views the value-added tax as a "tax of substitution." The administration is studying the tax as a substitute for the local property tax as the financial prop for schools, but has made no formal proposal.

The value-added tax is a levy on the value added to goods at each level of production. It is praised by its supporters as easy to collect and administer, but criticized by detractors as a national sales tax striking the poor the hardest.

Connally said he will recommend that the administration consider cutting the fat out of the budget before it attempts to embark on major tax reform.

But if there is a presidential tax-reform proposal, "he's not going to limit it to a few isolated cases that have political porridge in them."

A few weeks ago, Connally heavily criticized tax-reform bills on Capitol Hill, saying that passage of any this year could dampen economic recovery and precipitate another monetary crisis.

But the secretary, Nixon's chief economic spokesman, was optimistic about the economy, saying there is an "excellent chance" that the unemployment rate will fall to the projected 5-per-cent estimate at the end of the year.

Connally said there's a chance that wage-price controls can be ended by March or April of 1973, but he made it clear that the criteria for removal of controls is whether they are doing the job—slowing the rate of inflation and reducing inflationary pressures in the economy.

No Solid Clues In Bombing Case

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The U.S. Army says it has no indication who bombed one of its headquarters in Frankfurt Thursday night, killing a lieutenant colonel and injuring 13 persons. Frankfurt police declined to comment on speculation that the explosions were a protest against U.S. policies in Vietnam.

"Anyone could have planted the bombs," said a military policeman on duty when they went off about 7 p.m. Spec 4 Ted Bloyd of Houston, Tex. "There was a tour group going into the building at the time, and anyone could have carried them in a suitcase."

Frankfurt Police Chief Knut Mueller said he saw no reason to call off a demonstration today against the Vietnam war organized by the Communist party. But he said the protesters would be kept away from U.S. installations and he had called in auxiliaries to help control them.

The strongest of the three bombs collapsed the ceiling between the two stories of an officers' club and blew out the windows across the front of the building.

The colonel was killed by a fragment that slammed into his neck as he stood outside the club.

He was not identified pending notification of his family.

Most of the injured—who included one American woman and two German women employed by the club—were inside the club when the blasts went off.

Most of the injured were cut by glass shards from the shattered windows. One underwent surgery.

A second bomb went off in a cafeteria and a third exploded inside the entrance to the main office building, a seven-story structure that has been a U.S. Army headquarters since World War II.

The Army said six MP's were in a guardroom off the entrance hall, but none was seriously injured.

It was the first such bombing of an American installation in the 27 years since World War II that U.S. troops have been stationed in West Germany. But American businesses, the U.S. consulate in Frankfurt and the local America House library often have been targets for rock throwers and fire bombers protesting American actions in the Vietnam war. Similar attacks have been carried out in West Berlin.

Busy Day Expected By Firm

Mother's Day "visiting" by telephone is expected to be about 48 percent more than the long distance calling volume of a normal Sunday, according to Robert Johnson, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. manager in Sedalia.

He said about 3,772 long distance calls are now handled here on a normal Sunday. The company handled 5,573 long distance calls on Mother's Day last year, he said, and the volume is expected to be still greater this year.

"Mother's Day and Christmas are the two busiest special days of the year at the phone company," he said. "Because of the increased volume of calls, customers would be wise to call early to avoid peak periods and possible delays in getting their calls through."

Johnson said peak periods usually occur between 9 a.m. and noon and from 6 to 10 p.m.

He suggested calling on Saturday since reduced rates are in effect throughout the weekend.

"We plan to have every available operator on duty here Mother's Day to handle person-to-person and other calls requiring operator assistance. This will be approximately 34 operators," he said.

Parents Group Has Scheduled Picnic

The Pettis County Chapter of Parents of the Mentally Retarded will hold its traditional spring picnic at Camp Sacajawea at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Those attending are asked to bring a basket dinner, but drinks will be provided, it was reported. The group's regular business meeting will be held the same evening.

4-H News

Pettis County 4-H members observed National 4-H Sunday, May 7. Several clubs participated in services with a few conducting the entire church service.

It was noted that 4-H Sunday is an outgrowth of Rural Life Sunday, which was first observed in 1929. During the observance, 4-H members are encouraged to attend the church of their choice.

Health Nuts Aren't Really Nuts

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me what is happening in our society to make everyone so weight- and calorie-conscious? I've had women who are darned near strangers tell me they lost four inches last month. This morning the elevator operator confided between the first and fifth floor that she has lost five pounds. The guy whose desk is behind me asked me this noon what I usually dream about. When I told him, "None of your business," he looked surprised and said, "I dream about strawberry shortcake."

This afternoon at about 3 o'clock I felt a little weary so I went to the vending machine and bought a candy bar. The woman whose desk is across from mine looked up and said, "You don't need that. A couple of carrots would be a lot better for you." I told her they don't sell carrots in the hall. She suggested I bring some from home. I lost my cool and said I wasn't interested in a lecture on nutrition. She snapped back, "The people who need it never are."

Please explain this sudden interest from the health nuts.—Not Starving

Dear Not: These people aren't so nuts. We've learned a lot about nutrition these past 20 years and it's helping to prevent heart attacks and other diet-related diseases. Women who starve themselves for vanity's sake are balmy, but it's smart to eat sensibly, exercise regularly and watch your weight.

Dear Ann Landers: I'll come right to the point and hope you will, too. Joe and I went together two years before we were married in a church. We talked about having a family. The idea appealed to him a lot in our courting days. "A boy for me and a girl for you"—in fact he said he'd like three or four kids.

Now, a year later, he says he's changed his mind. He claims his brother's kids make him nervous. He has decided that we aren't going to have any children—not even adopted ones. The thought of a life without a family upsets me terribly. I feel as if I have been betrayed. Whenever I see a tiny baby I have to fight back the tears. Please help me.—23 And Miserable In Montana

Dear Montana: If you're miserable now, wait awhile. Your misery will grow with your resentment. Frankly, I don't see how you can find peace and contentment with this man. Discuss the problem with the clergyman who married you and ask him to guide you.

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you printed a letter from O-Hi-O who wanted to know what ordinary, everyday people can do about pollution and the ruin of our environment. When I read that letter I recognized a terrific opportunity to let the world know about our non-profit group of dedicated people who are working tirelessly to preserve our environment and the quality of life. This group was formed less than two years ago by ten concerned Americans, including Apollo astronaut Walt Cunningham and Apollo 9 astronaut Rusty Schweickart.

"Awareness" is our middle name. "Earth, I care" is our motto. When enough concerned adults and young people join forces to get a job done, there's no stopping them. Please, Ann, tell anyone who is interested to write to Earth Awareness Foundation, 350 Grove Street, Somerville, New Jersey 08876. Enclose a self-addressed

Smith-Cotton Eliminated

13 Lucky Number for Fatima's Dan Loethen

By VAUGHN HART
Sports Editor

There's an old saying that the number 13 is unlucky, but you would have a tough time convincing Dan Loethen that that saying holds true.

Loethen wears number 13. He also won his 13th game of the season Thursday afternoon. This one at the expense of the Smith-Cotton Tigers.

He had a little help in attaining the feat, and that help came in the person of Smith-Cotton second baseman Jim Sanders, who committed a costly error and propelled the Fatima Comets into Monday's sectional game of the Missouri State High School Activities Association's baseball playoffs against Lee's Summit in Liberty Park Stadium.

With the score knotted at 4-4 and two out in the bottom of the seventh, Randy Wieberg hit a high bouncer that Sanders misjudged. The ball got past Sanders and scored Mike Oldlehr from second base, giving the Westphalia, Mo., entry the district baseball championship over Sedalia Smith-Cotton, 5-4.

But the game belonged mainly to Loethen and the Fatima bats, which, alone with Sanders' error, were the deciding factors in the contest.

Loethen hurled no-hit ball through the first four innings and was riding atop a 2-0 lead before Pete Kostopolus drilled a home run over the center-field wall with a man aboard that knotted the contest in the top of the fifth.

Fatima came right back in the bottom of the frame with two runs of their own to take a 4-2 lead.

After holding the Tigers scoreless in the sixth, it looked like the host Bengals were doomed, but not quite.

Freshman third baseman Rick McRoy was hit by an errant Loethen fast ball to open the top of the seventh. McRoy stole second and scored on a triple by second baseman — relief pitcher — Ralph Perri, who sandwiched his hit between McRoy's free pass and pinch hitter Mike Strothman's strikeout.

Center fielder Doug Maple smacked a sacrifice fly to center that scored Perri, knotting the count at 4-all.

Loethen issued a base on balls to Derrick

Crank, but then struck out Steve Herzberg for the fourth time to end any continued Tigers' threat. During Herzberg's time at bat, Crank moved into second on a stolen base, and was left stranded.

Oldlehr singled to open the bottom of the seventh and went to second on a sacrifice bunt by Gus Boessen. Loethen flied out to Maple in center, but it wasn't deep enough to advance Oldlehr to third.

With two out and the count no balls and one strike, Wieberg bounced a higher grounder to Sanders. Sanders moved in on the ball a little too quickly and its third bounce carried it over his head into right-center field.

Oldlehr was moving with the crack of the bat and scored the deciding run.

Sanders moved into the second base slot after starting pitcher Mike Arnold was lifted and replaced by Perri, the original second baseman. Arnold yielded the leadoff single to Oldlehr and was charged with the loss.

In gaining his 13th win of the season, Loethen has now been the winning pitcher in 13 of the Comets' 16 victories. He has yet to lose.

Fatima banged out 11 hits during the game, while on the other side of the ledger, Smith-Cotton managed only three.

Bruins Win Stanley Cup

Boston's Johnny Bucyk . . . Takes One Good Turn for Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — The Boston Bruins carted the Stanley Cup home for the second time in three years today with Bobby Orr & Co. the toast of Boston once again after bitter defeat in 1971.

Eliminated in the opening round of defense of the National Hockey League's most coveted prize, the Bruins made amends by regaining the Stanley Cup with a 3-0 victory over the New York Rangers Thursday night in the sixth game of the best-of-seven series.

The burly Bruins were a tense, determined group as they invaded New York for the final game of the season in New York. They left the champagne at home, chilled but unopened after bowing 3-2 in the fifth game Tuesday night in Boston.

Instead of the bubbly stuff, they celebrated with beer and soft drinks in a jammed dressing room. However, they knew the champagne, and the winner's prize of $15,000 per player, was waiting.

Goalie Gerry Cheevers was tremendous in the shutout. Wayne Cashman, an unheralded but tough wing, scored two goals. The Bruins forechecked and backchecked. But everyone talked of Orr, the 24-year-old super star who did everything while playing with a bad left knee in the series.

"You want to know what turned this game around?" asked Ranger captain Vic Hadfield. "The same thing that turned the whole thing around—Bobby Orr. The two clubs were even in faceoffs, even in power plays, even in penalty killing, even in everything—except they had Orr."

"That Orr, he's fantastic, just terrific," said New York's Brad Park, the NHL's No. 2 defenseman who engaged his Boston rival in a fight in the fourth game.

Orr, an overwhelming choice as winner of the Conn Smythe Award as the most valuable player in the playoffs, scored the first Boston goal on a power play in the first period.

Then he drew a misconduct penalty for a few words directed at Referee Art Skov and sat out 10 minutes. He returned just in time to help the Bruins when the Rangers had a two-man advantage in the second period. Then his rifle shot from the point enabled Cashman to tip in the second goal in the third period.

Blundy, Sutcliffe File Race Entries

Jerry Blundy

Dick Sutcliffe

Jaycees Memorial Race Chairman Gary Evert has announced that the first and second-place finishers in the International Motor Contest Association sprint car standings last year, Jerry Blundy and Dick Sutcliffe filed entries for the May 28 race on the Missouri State Fairgrounds' half-mile track.

Blundy won his first IMCA sprint championship in 1970. He repeated in 1971. The Galesburg, Ill., pilot won last year's championship over Sutcliffe by nearly 600 points. He captured nine features on his way to the title.

Sutcliffe, Greenwood, Mo., tallied 2,020 IMCA sprint car division points in 1971. Sutcliffe has always been a "money driver," and that is probably best evidenced by last year's performance. He won only one feature, but notched five seconds and four thirds during the 1971 campaign.

In addition to the May 28 Jaycees-IMCA sprint event, another demolition derby will be held following the feature sprint race.

Tickets are available at a $1 reduction from any Jaycee member or by mail. All seats the day of the race will be $4.

Picks Chamberlain

NEW YORK (AP) — The broken right wrist Wilt Chamberlain played with in the final game of the Los Angeles Lakers' championship series victory was nothing serious, the star center said Thursday.

It especially didn't bother him the next day.

"There wasn't much pain at all," Chamberlain said Thursday of the feeling he had the day after last Sunday's victory over New York which gave the Lakers the National Basketball Association title.

"I was still feeling the champagne."

Chamberlain was outstanding despite his broken wrist, and Thursday he was named by a sports magazine as the outstanding player of the series which the Lakers won 4-1.

LaMonte meets Sedalia S-M Sporting Goods in LaMonte Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in a doubleheader.

S-C Jayvee Baseballers End Season With Split

The Smith-Cotton junior varsity baseball squad closed their 1972 season Thursday with a doubleheader split against Sweet Springs in Centennial Park.

Steve Bartlett's pitching and Greg Boehne's solo home run in the third inning gave S-C a 3-2 victory in the opener.

The one-hit pitching of Dick Vogt gained a 3-0 win for the Greyhounds in the nightcap.

Bartlett, who went all the way, scattered seven hits in the opening contest. He got a two-run cushion in the first on rbi by himself and Mark Stockstill.

Boehne's homer was the second in as many days.

Sweet Springs scored all their runs in the second game during the first inning off starter Jim Campbell. Greg Bechtel and Stockstill came on later for relief work.

Bartlett picked up the only hit in the contest with a single in the fifth.

The split gave the Tigers a 6-10 final-season record.

Link Mo. Co.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Emprise Corp., whose subsidiaries are connected with race tracks and major league baseball, football and basketball teams, has organized crime links, two St. Louis policemen said Thursday.

"Close ties between Missouri Sports Service Inc., and a suspected crime group exists in the subplot contract from Missouri Sports Service, Inc., to the Automatic Cigarette Sales Co., of Pine Lawn, Mo.," testified Lt. Col. John Doherty and Capt. Earl T. Halverson of the St. Louis Police Department.

"This company Automatic Cigarette and its predecessor have been hoodlum controlled for many years," they told House Select Committee on Crime.

Robert P. Leacy, a former attorney for the Emprise Corp., testified he had met two earlier witnesses at Emprise's Buffalo, N.Y., headquarters. He identified the two men as Jack Tocco, executive vice president of Hazel Park, and Anthony Zerilli, a past president of the Detroit race track.

Zerilli was identified by the Justice Department in 1969 as a member of the Mafia, and the Michigan attorney general's office has identified Tocco as a Mafia figure.

Leacy also told the committee about a $10,000 "political contribution" to the late Earl Long when he was running for reelection as governor of Louisiana. At the time, Leacy said, Emprise was attempting to acquire a concession contract at a Louisiana race track with an eye toward eventual purchase of stock in the track.

Under questioning, the lawyer said Emprise was asked for a $25,000 campaign contribution for another Louisiana governor, and told of an alleged $50,000 payment by Emprise to a "high government official" in Arkansas.

He did not identify the latter two.

Leacy, who said his specialty with Emprise was in its race track affiliations, said the firm, to the best of his knowledge, had loaned money at one time or another to tracks in every state where parimutuel betting was allowed.

Through its subsidiaries, Emprise has also loaned money to numerous other enterprises, including $4 million to the Milwaukee Brewers and $2 million to the Montreal Expos' baseball teams, the committee was told.

One witness, identified by the St. Louis police officers as a leader among a criminal group operating in the St. Louis metropolitan area, took the Fifth Amendment to seven consecutive questions before he was excused.

Appearing without his lawyer, Anthony Giardano was questioned about his connection with Missouri Sports Service, Inc., and the Frontier Hotel and casino in Las Vegas, Nev.

Hannibal, Mexico Split CMC Games

HANNIBAL — Hannibal and Mexico High Schools concluded their 1972 baseball slates here Thursday evening by splitting a Central Missouri Conference doubleheader.

Hannibal won the opener, 4-2, while Mexico captured their only CMC game of the season with a 4-3 victory over the Pirates in the nightcap.

The win for Hannibal gave them third place in the final league standings at 3-5; Mexico wound up in the cellar with a 1-7 league slate.

Willie Mays . . . Happy With Deal

'It Pleases Me'

Willie Mays Goes Back to New York

NEW YORK (AP) — "It pleases me," said Willie Mays, "that people still want me."

With those modest words Thursday, the baseball great began a "new career" at age 41 with the New York Mets.

The San Francisco wonder player, acquired in a much-publicized deal, responded with enthusiasm at the idea of playing in New York.

"I love baseball and I love this town," said the second best home run hitter in history. "I'm looking forward to playing—I'm not looking forward to embarrassing myself. I'm glad the Mets didn't worry about how old I was."

"That tells me something about Willie Mays. It tells me that maybe I've got something left."

For awhile, it looked as if the Mets weren't going to get the great center fielder at all. News of the prospective deal broke last week, but it was reportedly cooled when the Giants asked too much.

Interested in one of the Mets' starting pitchers, the Giants settled Thursday for minor league right-hander Charlie Williams and an undisclosed amount of cash. The deal was quickly closed Thursday morning after Mays was personally brought in on the talks.

"We wanted to make sure that Willie would be happy in New York," said M. Donald Grant, chairman of the Mets' board of directors.

Other than the sentimental reason of returning to the city where he started his playing career with the old New York Giants in 1951, Mays will be made happy in other ways, Grant pointed out.

"As soon as Willie decides that he doesn't want to play anymore," said Grant, "he has a three-year contract from that day on with the Mets' organization. He'll probably be a coach, but he could do other things."

New York Manager Yogi Berra acknowledged that Mays had lost some steam out of his throwing arm, but still could play centerfield with the best because "he knows all the hitters in this league. He knows where to play them."

"I'm sure he'll help our team. Maybe some of his knowledge will rub off on the other 24 guys. He should make a good example for our players to follow."

Berra doesn't expect Mays to revert to his power-hitting form of old which helped him collect 646 career homers, second only to Babe Ruth. But the manager insisted that his new player would be tough in the clutch situations both at bat and in the field.

S-C Sports Slate Nears 1972 Close

As the school year nears its end, so does the spring sports schedule at Smith-Cotton High School.

But some key activities are scheduled for the weekend. Notably in track and baseball.

In track, the Tigers will be seeking their second consecutive district outdoor title Saturday in Mexico. S-C is entered in a field with nine other schools: Mexico, Moberly, Jefferson City Senior High, Jefferson City Helias, Columbia Hickman, Hannibal, Kirksville and Marshall.

First, second and third-place finishers, along with those who meet minimum standards will qualify for the Missouri State High School Activities Association's Class L state finals, May 20.

At Liberty Park Stadium, Smith-Cotton plays host to the annual S-C Invitational Baseball Tournament.

In addition to the host Tigers, Columbia Hickman, Jefferson City and Raytown will battle for the championship. Smith-Cotton has won the title the last two years.

The opening game at noon pits Hickman against Jefferson City; the 2 p.m. contest finds the Tigers meeting Raytown.

The third-place game between the two afternoon losers will be staged at 7 p.m. The title game is scheduled for 9 p.m.

Track coach Larry York said that Rick Ream will miss Saturday's district trials due to a pulled hamstring. He also noted that sprinter Larry Hausam was a question mark. Jim Blaine, suffering from a foot injury, will participate, however.

Saturday's entries include: 100-yard dash — Darro Byrd; high hurdles — Fred Washington, Tom Bloess; two-mile run — David Moore, Jim Lovercamp; mile run — C. E. Baldwin, Steve Fisher; 800-yard relay — Jack Cook, David Knott, Jim Blaine, Larry Hausam; 440-yard dash — Rick Bellmer, low hurdles — Fred Washington, Tom Bloess; 880-yard run — Robert Mayes, Steve Cable; triple jump — Bob Findland, Roger Findland; 220-yard dash — Darro Byrd; mile relay — Robert Mayes, C. E. Baldwin, Rick Bellmer, Larry Hausam; discus — Aaron Hartt, Kenny McDowell; shot put — Aaron Hartt, Dennis Hargraves; long jump — Jack Cook, Fred Knight; high jump — Fred Knight, Dudley Lehmer; pole vault — Pat Curry, Randy Taylor.

Switch Tryouts

The Senior Babe Ruth tryouts scheduled for Saturday at Liberty Park Stadium have been switched to Wednesday due to the Smith-Cotton Invitational.

Boys between the ages of 16-18 may attend final tryout session Wednesday at 5:30 p.m.

Largest B52 Concentration Of War Strikes At An Loc

SAIGON (AP) — The United States on Friday unleashed the war's biggest concentration of B52 bombers at An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon, in efforts to break the five-week-old North Vietnamese siege of the provincial capital. Field reports said more than 400 North and South Vietnamese soldiers were killed in fighting during the past two days.

Nearly 70 B52s dropped over 1,700 tons of explosives on North Vietnamese troop concentrations along a line westnorthwest of An Loc to eastnortheast of the city straddling Highway 13.

The provincial capital is already 85 per cent destroyed. President Nguyen Van Thieu has ordered the city held at all costs.

Meanwhile, American-laid mines armed themselves Thursday night in harbors of North Vietnam, bringing into force the latest effort to choke off the supply of enemy war goods.

Up to nightfall, hours after the mines activated at the entrances to seven port cities, there were no reports of incidents involving shipping.

The Pentagon announced that five ships, including four flying the Soviet flag, left Haiphong harbor before activation, leaving 31 foreign vessels.

With martial law in effect in Saigon, the government ordered an earlier curfew. Effective Saturday, it will be 10 p.m. The curfew had been 1 a.m. and last month was cut back to 11 p.m. The government also ordered the closing down of night clubs, bars and race tracks.

Despite the pounding by the B52s, North Vietnamese troops heavily assaulted An Loc on Friday morning for the second consecutive day.

The enemy resumed heavy shelling of the town just before 9 a.m. Saigon time, and launched ground assaults from all sides.

The North Vietnamese were said to control sections of the western and northern perimeters in a rapidly changing defense line. Five North Vietnamese tanks were in the northern end of the town, field reports said.

Fighting continued on the northeastern perimeter. Field reports said one block of the perimeter captured by the North Vietnamese was retaken by government troops.

Some fighting erupted to the west and northwest of Saigon in Hau Nghia and Tay Ninh provinces.

In the far north, there was more fighting around Firebase Birmingham near the old capital of Hue. Spokesmen said 32 enemy were killed while government forces lost one man killed and two wounded.

Intense air strikes continued Thursday over North Vietnam, but specific targets were not disclosed immediately by the command in Saigon.

The Viet Cong's Liberation Radio claimed more attacks were carried out Thursday in the Hanoi-Haiphong areas and that three American planes were shot down.

U.S. headquarters announced a record 10 enemy MIGs were knocked down Wednesday over North Vietnam. First accounts said seven of the North Vietnamese interceptors were downed.

Headquarters listed three American planes lost in Wednesday's raids. Two crewmen aboard a Navy F4 Phantom parachuted and were rescued unharmed, but the four men aboard two Air Force planes were listed as missing.

Naval gunfire also slammed into North Vietnamese targets from what official communiques called "the most formidable cruiser-destroyer striking group assembled in the Western Pacific since World War II."

BULLETIN

SAIGON (AP) — Much of Hanoi has been evacuated, a Canadian official said Friday.

"A major evacuation of residents has taken place," said David Jackson of the International Control Commission, who makes periodic trips to Hanoi. "It has been going on since the outset of recent hostilities."

Jackson told The Associated Press that foreign missions in Hanoi had been advised to be prepared to evacuate.

All missions are still there, he said, but most have evacuated their dependents.

Surprise White House Meeting With Soviets

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, smiling and injecting the word "friendship" into casual conversation, met Thursday with a Soviet trade minister who later said: "We never had any doubts" about the May 22 Moscow summit.

The comment by Foreign Trade Minister Nikolai Patolichev came after a surprise White House meeting, described officially as a "courtesy call" by the minister and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin.

The session, which opened in a display of cordiality, came soon after the Soviet government denounced Nixon's mining of North Vietnamese ports.

The Moscow statement was more reserved than some U.S. officials had expected and made no reference to the talks between Nixon and Soviet leaders scheduled to begin in 11 days.

This could be an indication, the officials said, that Kremlin leaders were still pondering steps to counter Nixon's stern moves intended to choke off the flow of Hanoi's war supplies.

The White House and State Department had no official comment on the Soviet statement but said they were studying it.

The Pentagon said that before the minefields became active at 7 a.m. EDT Thursday five ships left Haiphong harbor. Four were Russian, the fifth a Hong Kong-based British vessel. This left 31 foreign merchant ships still in Haiphong, including 12 flying Soviet flags.

Asked whether Russian naval ships are en route to the Tonkin gulf area, Pentagon spokesman Jerry Friedheim said: "I have nothing to report Thursday morning on either Chinese or Soviet fleet movements."

On Wednesday Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said only that there was no evidence of Soviet naval movements in response to the mines.

So far, Friedheim reported, there were "no mine-sweeping operations going on" in the entrances to the seven North Vietnamese ports.

The tone of the first high-level Soviet reaction to Nixon's Monday night announcement and the amiable and cordial public exchanges between the President and his Communist callers were viewed as indications that the long-planned Moscow summit talks were still on.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler refused to say whether the summit was discussed during the 50-minute meeting between Nixon, Patolichev and Dobrynin.

Afterward, NBC radio news reported that the Soviet trade minister was asked by a newsmen whether the summit was still on.

"We never had any doubts about it," the Russian was quoted as saying. "I don't know why this questions. Have you any doubts?"

The minister also told the reporter that during the meeting he and Nixon had discussed his visit to Washington for trade talks but did not talk about Vietnam or the planned summit.

Ziegler said Patolichev's White House visit had been under discussion for several days. The minister had arrived in Washington on Sunday for talks with Secretary of Commerce Peter G. Peterson and other officials, following up on the November visit to Moscow by then-Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans.

Although officials would not comment, it seemed unlikely that the Soviet officials would use the meeting to deliver the Kremlin statement denouncing Nixon's orders to mine North Vietnamese ports.

The statement distributed by the government news agency said Nixon's actions are "fraught with serious consequences for international peace and security."

It pledged that the Soviet Union would continue giving the North Vietnamese "the necessary support," but did not spell out how the Kremlin would deal with the mines sown in Vietnamese harbors.

The Pentagon also refused to say whether Communist ships now bottled up behind the mine barrier will be bombed. However, Pentagon spokesman Friedheim indicated they might not be attacked, saying, "Our main concern is with ships that might deliver supplies in the future."

To pay for the stepped-up naval and air operations, Friedheim said, the Pentagon will ask for supplemental appropriations for this fiscal year and the one ending in 1973.

BULLETIN

KELLOGG, Idaho (AP) — Thirty-three more bodies were discovered in the fire-wracked Sunshine silver mine Thursday, raising the death toll to 84 and leaving only seven miners still missing.

When Marvin Chase, general manager of the mine, announced that 19 more bodies had been found late Thursday, grieving relatives of miners began filing from the compound near the main mine entrance where they had been waiting.

Earlier Thursday 14 bodies were found.

Pipeline Route

Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton said Thursday he has decided to grant a permit for the right-of-way for an 800-mile pipeline across Alaska. Morton's decision permits construction of the pipeline from Alaska's North Slope to the ice-free port of Valdez, where oil would be loaded on tankers bound for West Coast refineries. Environmental groups vowed to continue to fight the controversial project.

Intends To Permit Alaskan Pipeline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton gave notice Thursday of his intention to permit an 800-mile oil pipeline across Alaska, but opponents of the project immediately promised a new court battle.

In his decision, Morton ruled out an alternative proposal, a route across Canada.

In Vancouver, B.C., Canada's minister of external affairs, Mitchell Sharp, called the pipeline plan "a very, very foolish move" and said Canada would oppose it.

The oil pipeline proposal has been stalled for two years by a court injunction, won by environmental groups, requiring the Interior Department to complete an environmental impact study before making a decision.

A spokesman for these groups said they will fight Morton's decision in court.

Simultaneously, a federal appeals court handed the environmentalists a procedural victory by allowing intervention in the case by a Canadian member of parliament and Canadian citizen organizations.

Supporters of the pipeline plan welcomed Morton's announcement but one of them, Alaska's lone House member, Democrat Nick Begich, said the case would be tied up in court another year.

Under the preliminary injunction issued by federal judge George L. Hart in 1970, Morton had to complete an environmental study and then give the court and the environmentalists two weeks' notice before taking action on the application of seven oil companies for a right-of-way across Alaska.

Morton issued the impact statement last March 20, allowed 45 days for written comment from the public, a deadline which ended one week ago, and gave the required two weeks notice Thursday.

He said, "The permits will be issued as soon as that can be done without violating any court order."

In explaining his decision, Morton said he considered both the proposed route from Alaska's north slope to a port at Valdez with a tanker transport link to the U.S. west coast, and an alternate all-land route through Canada.

Both routes posed some environmental problems, he said, but the Canadian route would take three to five years longer to complete.

"... We need this oil delivered to our west coast as promptly and as safely as possible," he said.

"I am convinced," Morton said, "that it is our best national interest to avoid further delays and uncertainties in planning the development of Alaska North Slope oil reserves by having a secure pipeline located under the total jurisdiction and for the exclusive use of the United States."

Antiwar Activists Continue Protests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Antiwar demonstrators forced the United Nations to close its New York headquarters to tourists and isolated the public from the historic frigate Constitution in Boston harbor Thursday, in a third day of intense but scattered protest against President Nixon's new Vietnam policy.

More than 500 arrests were logged during the day, most of them peaceful. In some cases, demonstrators were carried or dragged away, however.

Eighteen demonstrators were arrested at New Brunswick, N.J., during a vain attempt to block local trains on the main line of the Penn Central Railroad. But five Southern Pacific trains were rerouted at Davis, Calif., after University of California students there spent most of the night sitting on the tracks.

Wage Bill Approved By House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Thursday approved a two-step increase in the minimum wage to $2 an hour, rejecting a proposal to make the jump immediately and extend coverage to 5.8 million additional workers.

The bill passed by the House would raise the present $1.60 minimum to $1.80 within two months after enactment, and to $2 a year later. Lower rates would be set for teen-agers and farm workers.

The measure goes to the Senate where a bill raising the minimum to $2.20 an hour this year and expanding the coverage is awaiting final action by the Senate Labor Committee.

The House vote was a victory for the administration and a setback for the Democratic leadership, which had made the $2 minimum now, and the extension of coverage to government employees and household domestics a key part of its legislative program.

Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., who offered the amendment to stretch out the $2 rate until next year, said an immediate boost, amounting to a 25 per cent increase, would "completely gut" the 5.5 per cent guideline for pay raises set by the Pay Board.

He called his amendment, which was adopted 216 to 187, "the small business amendment." Most small retail and service establishments would be hard hit by a raise to $2 at this time, he said.

Other groups of protesters tied up auto traffic at Santa Barbara, Calif., and on Chicago's South Lake Shore drive, among a number of target areas.

In New England, the president of Amherst College, his wife, and the wife of the president of Smith College were arrested after they joined students in blocking traffic at Westover Air Force Base at Chicopee, Mass.

Three days of window-smashing protest by University of California students at Berkeley left small merchants with an estimated loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars. More than 100 firms reported damage.

Seventeen students and faculty members from Columbia University and Brooklyn Community College chained themselves to seats in the visitors' gallery of the U.N. Security Council. They demanded to see U.S. Ambassador George Bush, currently president of the council.

A U.N. spokesman, William Powell, said U.N. headquarters would be closed to the public for the remainder of the day and Friday because of "the rising tide of demonstrations taking place."

"Let there be no mistake about it, this is not a peaceful demonstration," Powell told newsmen. He said a U.N. painter trying to help the guards was bitten so badly on the arm by a protester that he required medical treatment.

Marines removed 11 members of Vietnam Veterans Against the War who chained themselves in the old captain's quarters of the Constitution, "Old Ironside" of historic accomplishment in the War of 1812. She is moored in the Charlestown Navy Yard in Boston. They had refused to leave peacefully.

"The Navy respects the right of these men to hold their views," said Cmdr. Matthew Romano, a Navy public affairs officer. "However, they were on

Education Tax—I

Needs Met With Levy

"Next in importance to freedom and justice is popular education, without which neither freedom nor justice can be permanently maintained."

James A. Garfield, accepting the Presidential nomination.

By BOB SHEUE
Democrat-Capital Staff Writer

The impressive building rambles along part of a 20-acre tract at 19th and Ingram. Entering the advanced stages of completion, it includes the necessary facilities a modern junior high school requires to do its job.

As in many other major building projects, some delays in construction have been experienced but they don't appear to present any serious problems. Thanks to building bonds passed by School District 200 voters on March 24, 1970, the area will soon have what has been noticeably lacking for so long — a junior high school.

There's just one hangup — the present school tax levy, the lowest in the state for cities of more than 5,000 persons, isn't enough to support operation and maintenance of the new junior high.

That's where Tuesday's election comes in. A 65-cent tax levy increase is necessary to make the new school fully functional, as well as reduce class size at Smith-Cotton High School and provide kindergartens in the elementary schools. Without the levy increase some of the facilities of the $1.9 million junior high will remain dormant, classes will remain overcrowded and public kindergarten will remain only a concept in Sedalia.

Other problems present themselves should the levy vote be a negative one, as it was in the April 4 city election.

The local school system is not only in danger of losing a chance at regaining a prestigious AAA rating from the State Department of Education, but the system's accreditation status with the North Central Association is also in jeopardy now. Plans to provide vocational-technical classes at Smith-Cotton and expand the services of a cooperative learning disability program with the Children's Therapy Center also depend on approval of the levy hike, according to Dr. T. J. Norris, superintendent of schools, and Roger Garlich, director of the Therapy Center.

Accreditation Ratings Needed

The school system lost its AAA rating with the state two years ago because of overcrowded classes and a lack of vo-tech courses and kindergartens. The NCA has told the school system that to remain a member in good standing "sufficient per-pupil expenditures must be provided annually to insure that the Association's standards are met or exceeded and that they shall compare favorably with other accredited schools in the region and state. In deciding whether a reasonable financial effort is being made, consideration shall be given to such factors as per-capita income and assessed valuation, along with the tax rate and per-pupil expenditure for instructional purposes."

Dr. Norris said that accreditation would be lost with the NCA at the start of the 1973-74 school year, unless the public's financial support of the school system is beefed up.

AAA guidelines, advancing with statewide educational procedures as determined by the State Department of Education, now insist that class sizes be held to 30 students and that vo-tech and kindergarten be active educational programs.

Vo-Tech Is Vital

Local educators see the lack of vocational-technical courses as a serious problem, especially considering that only half of Smith-Cotton's graduates attend college.

Norris explained recently that the school system has made arrangements with Warrensburg and Marshall schools to bus interested S-C students to vo-tech classes in those cities. Norris said the school system could pay the tuition and busing expenses for such a venture, but only with an increased levy. He revealed a list of 14 Smith-Cotton students who have enrolled in auto-body and welding courses for next fall at Warrensburg.

"It's a matter of how long we want to put up with these kind of conditions as citizens of Sedalia."

Many vo-tech courses require special and larger classroom facilities, such as the Warrensburg auto-body class, Norris said. But he explained that S-C could hold vo-tech classes of a more conventional nature with little alteration of present facilities. He mentioned an electrical class and a course in small engine repair as two possibilities. But he emphasized

Russia Will Avoid Vietnam Showdown

Not since the Cuban missile crisis of 1962 has the U.S. faced such a potential confrontation with the Soviet Union as that created by President Nixon's order to mine the entrances to North Vietnam's harbors.

As of Wednesday, 36 foreign merchant ships remained in Haiphong harbor, almost half of them Russian. Other Soviet merchant ships were enroute to North Vietnam, but were reported to be changing course in face of the activation of the naval mines, which occurred early Thursday morning, U.S. time.

The prospect, then, is for many merchant ships that have brought armaments and other aid to North Vietnam to be bottled up inside enemy harbors, while others are unable to enter to unload their cargos.

Uppermost in everyone's mind, of course, is the question: What will Russia do?

The Russian navy could order a squadron of minesweepers to Vietnam to clear the fields, but this would take time. And even if the mines were swept, there would remain the problem of getting the merchant ships into enemy harbors in face of the United States' announced determination to "not allow supplies to reach the shore."

From this it can be presumed that the U.S. Navy is prepared to use air and surface units to destroy the merchant ships that might attempt to run into North Vietnam.

Is Russia prepared to pay this price? Based on past experience and the Soviet Union's well-known respect for military power, we think not.

The fact is that the U.S. is holding the top cards in terms of naval strength on the spot. Already assembled, or soon to be, is a task force of five aircraft carriers, four cruisers and some 30 destroyers as well as fast coastal gunboats. Russia cannot begin to meet this challenge, especially the overwhelming air power.

President Nixon has taken a carefully calculated risk to choke off Hanoi's war materials. If it comes down to an eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation with the Soviets, they will be the first to blink.

M'Govern Just Not Funny

WASHINGTON — An ad hoc committee of humor writers and political cartoonists held an emergency meeting last weekend in Washington to see what they could do about Sen. George McGovern, who suddenly has become a viable presidential candidate.

Buchwald

The chairman of the committee in an opening statement warned the writers and cartoonists attending that there was a possibility that McGovern could win the Democratic nomination, and if he did, they would be obligated to satirize him in words and drawings.

"It's impossible," a humor writer said. "McGovern has been running for a year now, and there is not one thing humorous about him."

"May I remind you," another cartoonist said, "that you said the same thing about Nixon in 1968."

"Nixon's different," the first cartoonist said. "You can at least draw his nose. You can't even make a sketch of McGovern. He looks like everyone's high school chemistry teacher. If I don't put his name on the seat of his pants, no one knows who the heck he is."

A humor columnist said, "It's worse when you're trying to WRITE something funny about him. Has anyone managed to write anything funny about McGovern?"

There was dead silence in the room. "How can you write something funny about a man who comes from South Dakota?" a writer asked defensively.

The chairman said, "Well at least we're in agreement that McGovern isn't NATURALLY funny. The next question is how do we make him funny?"

There was dead silence in the room.

The chairman said, "Gentlemen, if by some chance McGovern were elected President of the United States, our jobs would be at stake. We would have to make fun of him for four years."

"I can't do it," a cartoonist cried. "I'd rather do commercials for American Airlines."

"Better Wallace than McGovern!" a gag writer yelled.

"You mean you'd rather have George Wallace as President of the United States than George McGovern?"

"We have to think of ourselves," the gag writer protested. "We know all of us could live with Wallace!"

"Huzzah! Huzzah! the crowd shouted.

"Even Humphrey would provide us with more material than McGovern!" A cartoonist yelled. "I've got a lot of reject cartoons left over on him."

"You're avoiding the issue," the chairman warned. "This meeting was called to decide what to do about McGovern. A few months ago the chance of his being President was out of the question. But now we may have to live with him, and we have to decide how we can do it. What I suggest we do right now is test ourselves. The writers start writing funny gags about McGovern, and the cartoonists start drawing funny pictures of him. Then we'll exchange the ideas. You've got 30 minutes to produce something."

At the end of 30 minutes, the chairman called the meeting to order. "What have we got?"

The cartoonists held blank sketch pads. "Cripes!" the chairman said. "What about the writers?"

"I have one," said one of the country's leading satirists. "Why does McGovern wear red suspenders?"

"To hold up his pants?" the chairman asked.

"You were peeking," the satirist said peevishly.

Tips To Discover FBI's Secret Files

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Patrick Gray III got off to an unconvincing start as the new boss of the FBI by pleading with newsmen: "None of you guys are going to believe this — and I don't know how to make you believe it — but there are no dossiers or secret files."

We will be happy to tell poor Pat, since he's new around the FBI, where some of the secret files are stashed.

As a starter, he might ask to see the Jane Fonda file, No. 100-459279. The FBI apparently considers the tiny, if sometimes turbulent, Miss Fonda a menace to the nation.

She recently won the Academy Award as Hollywood's best actress. But her most faithful fans are G-men, who monitor her performances around the world and submit detailed reports on her antiwar routines.

The Fonda file is stuffed with reports marked "Confidential" and "Secret." One entry, dated April 30, 1971, is stamped "Top Secret — No Foreign Dissemination — No Dissemination abroad."

This hush-hush document alleges darkly: "Between November 1970 and April 1971, Fonda toured college campuses across the country making antiwar speeches. A source advised (the FBI) the North Vietnamese Embassy in Moscow bought a plane ticket for Fonda to travel from the United States to Moscow and Hanoi via Paris on 3-17-71, though the trip was discontinued as all visas to North Vietnam were later cancelled."

By perusing the secret FBI files, Pat Gray can also find out who's who and what's new in the black community. There's hardly an important black leader who doesn't rate a full FBI file.

For example, Gray can learn from reading the Coretta King file, No. 100-6351, that the martyred Martin Luther King's widow has hired the Byron Detective agency to "maintain security" at her Atlanta home. This tidbit is stamped merely "Confidential," although there's a lot of equally irrelevant information labeled "Secret."

Or Gray may be interested to discover from a "Secret" entry in the Ralph Abernathy file, No. 100-442706, that King's successor at the Southern Christian Leadership Conference was "considering resigning as President, because of lack of cooperation from officers."

Even one of President Nixon's stalwart black supporters, Floyd McKissick, is kept under regular FBI surveillance. His file, No. 100-446386, contains a full background report on his activities labeled "Secret — No Foreign Dissemination."

Gray can also keep up with the world travels of James Baldwin, the famous black novelist, by reading file No. 62-108763. An entry, dated Dec. 23, 1969, and marked "Secret — No Foreign Dissemination," confides:

"NY T-1, another government agency which conducts intelligence investigations, advised on July 31, 1969, that James Baldwin arrived at Istanbul, Turkey, from Athens, Greece, via Air France on July 13, 1969."

There followed excerpts from the August 18, 1969, edition of the Turkish newspaper "Milliyet," also stamped a deep, dark "Secret."

Or Gray can read all about the personal affairs of Harry Belafonte, the talented black actor, by snooping through file No. 100-394716. A "Secret" background report starts off with information that the "subject's true name is Harold George Belafonte."

The new FBI chief will find all sorts of titillating tidbits in the files of such movie stars as Marlon Brando, Paul Newman, Rock Hudson, Tony Randall, Zero Mostel and others. None of them are accused of any crimes or suspected subversion. But the FBI keeps files on them anyhow.

Or, if Gray is a football fan, he can glean some fascinating facts from the FBI files on the likes of Joe Namath and Lance Rentzel.

For example, the FBI lists Namath under No. 505524F. His file declares: "Captioned individual, a member of the New York Jets of the American Football League, has never been the subject of an FBI investigation."

Yet the FBI has kept a faithful account of such miscellany as the report "from a reliable source that he frequents The Pussycat Bar in New York City."

Above all, newsmen should be skeptical — as Gray suggested they would be — that "there are no dossiers or secret files."

One dogged investigative reporter, I. F. Stone, file No. 100-37078, is checked out regularly by the FBI. A typical entry, dated March 17, 1967, and stamped "Confidential," reports:

"During 1966, subject spoke at several anti-Vietnam affairs. In his talks he was critical of the United States handling and participation in the Vietnam War."

"In February, 1966, subject observed to meet a Second Secretary (press) of the Embassy of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, Washington, D.C., at a Washington, D.C. restaurant."

Throughout most FBI files is scattered gossip about the sex lives of the subjects, indicating that the FBI spends considerable time snooping into the bedrooms of prominent people.

If Pat Gray still doubts that the FBI keeps secret files, we will be happy to show him some xeroxed copies.

Blood Drive Success Here

The May 5 community blood drawing was very successful, and we thank you for your support and interest. Jim Hurst, Dr. John Owens, Barbara Rampone of Bothwell Memorial Hospital, and the 218 people who either shared their blood, or attempted to do so, deserve much praise. (174 units were donated, 44 others attempted to give, but were disqualified).

We service 53 hospitals as you know, and we have the lowest wastage percentage in the United States, so blood we draw is always needed. But there ARE times when we feel more desperate than other times, and as it happened this two-week period in which Sedalia's drawing fell was one of those times. We really needed the blood and could have hugged the whole town if we could have done so! Many, many thanks to all those involved!

Hopefully, the spirit to share will continue. We will be back November 3, with more nurses and stay longer in an attempt to provide more efficient service.

More Safety Than We Really Need?

By JAMES J. KILPATRICK

WASHINGTON — Industrial safety is one of those things, politically speaking, that no prudent politician can oppose and every prudent politician must support. It stands in a class with clean air, clean water, pure food, and non-flammable nighties for little girls.

Kilpatrick

Thus it was, 17 months ago, that the Senate voted 83-3 and the House 309-60 for the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970. The act went into effect April 28, 1971. American employers and employees now have been struggling with its provisions for a little more than a year. It will be another year before even tentative conclusions can be drawn on the law's effectiveness.

Meanwhile, the verdict seems to be mixed. There is some reason to believe that the law's impact is like the little boy's book report on a 600-page volume dealing with penguins: "This book told me more about penguins than I really wanted to know." With its sweeping and detailed regulations, the act of 1970 may have imposed upon industry more safety than really is required.

One hesitates to venture such a judgment. The figures (excluding mining casualties, which are compiled separately and are covered by another law) offer a sobering picture of conditions in need of correction. In 1970, some 14,500 persons died and 2.2 million suffered disabling injuries in industrial accidents. An estimated 250 million man-days of work were lost. Beyond dispute, many employers have been negligent, and many workers have been careless. By and large, safety laws of the individual states appear not have been doing an effective job.

Granted all that, an impression is growing that the 1970 act is developing just as its critics have protested all along, into a lawyer's dream and an engineer's nightmare. In their eager-beaver zeal to make an impressive splash, safety inspectors from the Department of Labor have made more than 22,000 inspections in their first nine months of enforcement. They have recommended penalties in a startling 40 per cent of their investigations — penalties adding up to nearly $1.5 million in fines.

If the penalties were imposed only for serious infractions of safety rules, employer protests would have a hollow ring. But in thousands of instances, it appears, elaborate citations are drawn up for the most trivial offenses: An electric extension cord is not precisely secure, a hardhat is not precisely the approved weight, a toilet seat is not exactly so many inches off the floor, an appropriate receptacle has not been provided for used paper cups at the water container.

Employers complain that the system leaves them virtually at the mercy of two groups — their own workers, and the Labor Department inspectors. Under the law, the burden of maintaining safe conditions falls entirely upon management; if an inspector finds a laborer bareheaded, when he should be wearing a hardhat, the employer is penalized — even though he may have pleaded repeatedly with his workers to observe the rule. In most instances, the recommended fines are more in the nature of harassment than punishment — $25 to $100; it costs an employer less to pay them than to fight them.

Small employers are protesting bitterly, with apparent justice, at the heavy burden of record-keeping demanded by the act.

Statistics to the bureaucrat are like cud to the cow. It is understandable that the Department of Labor wants to feed its computers all kinds of lovely figures. But the forms are demanding; the records are tedious; and compliance takes endless time.

Admittedly, accidents cost money; but so does safety. Last week the U.S. Chamber of Commerce heard from a manufacturer of earth-moving machines. Between 1969 and 1975, some 350,000 such machines will have been built. Under the law, each must carry $2,000 in new roll-over protection. That represents an added cost of $700 million which must be recaptured somehow.

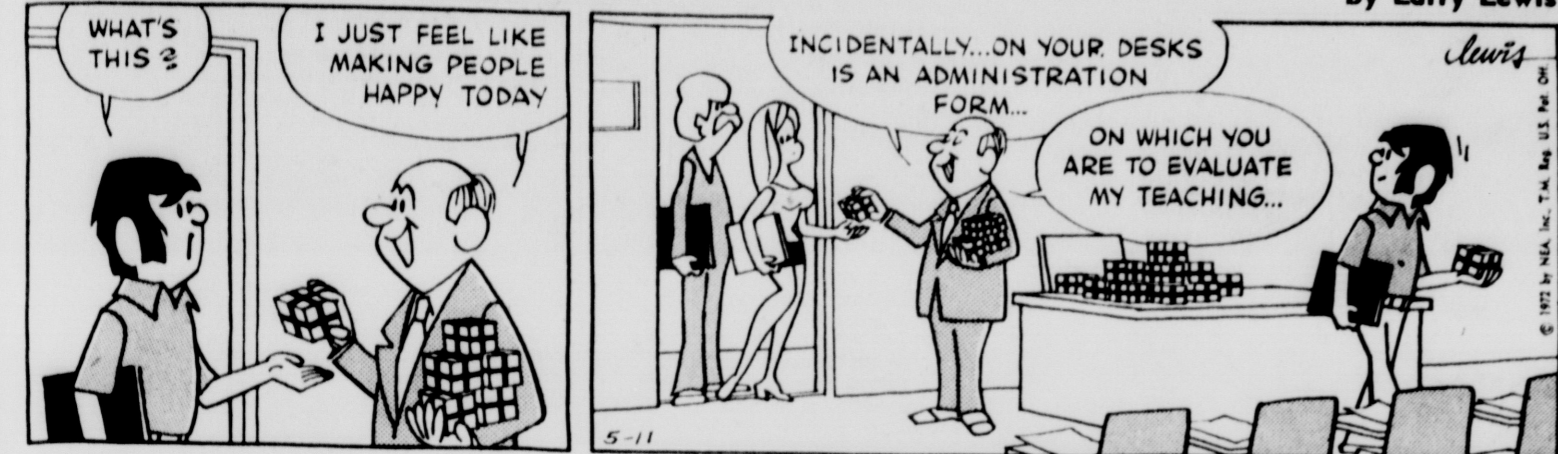

Employers undeniably have an obligation to provide safe and sanitary conditions for their workers. Who could quarrel with that? But some noise, and some dust, and some hazards are inescapably part of the world of manufacturing and building. If the administrators of the act get excessively finicky, they will succeed only in driving costs up, and cooperation down.

If you don't approve of North's jump to four spades, we must report that our old friend Y was sitting North and his partner Z South.

Y had watched Z make so many difficult hands for Work, Whitehead, Lenz and Foster back in the days of auction that he automatically raised him with any excuse whatsoever.

West made the best opening lead of a small diamond. East ruffed and returned a trump.

"This isn't the sort of hand they used to give me to play 50 years ago," said Z. "But I think justice may triumph."

He let the spade come around to his 10. Then he played dummy's ace of diamonds. East trumped and Z overruffed. Then he ruffed a club in dummy and led another diamond.

East discarded a heart and Z ruffed again. Now he ruffed a second club in dummy and another diamond in his own hand. East discarded a second heart on that fourth diamond, but it did him no good.

Z simply played his king of clubs. West took two club tricks, but then had to lead a heart. Z went up with dummy's queen and collected the rest of the tricks.

"You get better as you get older," beamed Y. "Could they have found a defense to beat you?"

"No," said Z. "It is a most interesting hand."

DEATH NOTICES

William G. Sebastian

WINDSOR — William G. Sebastian, 76, died at St. Luke's Hospital in Kansas City Wednesday morning.

He was born in Higginsville, Sept. 29, 1895, son of the late Richard and Belle Mount Sebastian. On Aug. 16, 1928, he married Dorothy McDaniel in Boonville and she survives of the home.

They moved to Windsor in 1930 and he owned and operated a barber shop there for about 40 years. He was a member of the Windsor Christian Church, the VFW and the Odd Fellows Lodge.

Also surviving are three daughters, Miss Lyla Sebastian, Lee's Summit; Mrs. Doris Kercher and Mrs. Lois Kirk, both of Independence; a nephew who was brought up in the family home, E. E. McNary, Schaffner In Battle JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Republican gubernatorial hopeful Gene McNary and state Director of Revenue James E. Schaffner got into a battle Thursday over tax collections.

The St. Louis County prosecuting attorney said Schaffner should stay out of politics and do his job.

Schaffner said McNary didn't do his job as prosecutor in collecting delinquent taxes.

The whole harangue started Wednesday when McNary was quoted by a local radio station as being critical of the investment of intangible tax collections in interest-free banks— which McNary denied Thursday.

Schaffner wrote McNary a letter and distributed copies to the press Thursday. In the letter he took issue with McNary over the statement and another remark he was quoted as making concerning collection of delinquent taxes.

Schaffner said his office turned 31 delinquent tax cases over to McNary for collection in St. Louis County last year. He said they finally had to be referred to the attorney general because McNary didn't act.

"You charge that delinquent taxpayers are not being prosecuted," Schaffner said in the letter, "and you are the one who failed to prosecute them."

McNary told The Associated Press: "Schaffner is uninformed and ill advised. It's typical of him to make some half-baked comment without accurate information."

Approves Oil Import Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The West Virginia flood last February that killed more than 100 persons might have been averted had the Bureau of Mines enforced its own regulations, says a bureau official who headed the official investigation.

The flood occurred Feb. 26 when a mound of coal mine wastes, damming a mountain stream, broke under heavy rains and sent an estimated 21 million cubic feet of water cascading through the narrow Buffalo Valley below.

William R. Wayment, head of an Interior Department investigating team, said the Bureau of Mines missed opportunities to avert the disaster by failing to:

—Apply a regulation forbidding impoundment of water by such a waste pile.

—Apply a regulation requiring weekly inspections of such a "dam."

—Live up to a 1967 pledge to watch such mounds for "unstable conditions that might endanger life."

The tragedy might have been averted, Wayment said in an interview, if the bureau had done any of those three things.

When the mound collapsed, a wall of water destroyed the towns of Saunders and Lorado and wreaked havoc for some 17 miles.

Forecast Reduction In Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department forecast Thursday a 1972 winter wheat crop of 1,149,064,000 bushels, down one per cent from the 1971 output and 11 per cent less than an initial estimate made last December.

Officials said further government farm program curbs announced in January along with drought and freeze damage were important factors in the reduced estimate.

The department's Crop Reporting Board said the forecast was based on field conditions as of May 1. Winter wheat is planted in the fall and harvested the following summer.

In December the department estimated the winter wheat crop at 1.29 billion bushels.

The reduced estimate from last December, the report said, was due largely to drought in the Southern plains, and freeze damage in Oklahoma and Kansas.

The report said only 82.4 per cent of the winter wheat acreage planted last fall would be harvested this year, the lowest percentage since 1963.

There was no production estimate for durum and other spring planted wheat, but an earlier projection based on acres planted and recent yield trends put 1972 production at 374 million bushels.

Thus, including both winter and spring types, this year's wheat crop could total more than 1.5 billion bushels, still a large crop. The record was 1.64 billion bushels last year.

The report said farmers have 34,823,000 acres of winter wheat for harvest this year, compared with 33,049,000 in 1971 which represented 89.4 per cent of last year's planted acres.

Despite the reduced harvest estimate, the crop still spells trouble for Nixon administration farm policies, currently aimed at curbing production of wheat and livestock feed grains.

Farmers recently have been producing much more wheat than is needed for domestic and export markets. The huge crop last year, for example, was about 240 million bushels more than can be used.

As a result, the carryover or surplus of wheat on July 1 is expected to be 971 million bushels, including reserves from earlier crops. That is the largest surplus in a decade.

The indicated production of winter wheat and average yields in 1972 by major producing states included:

Missouri 37,050,000 bushels and 39 bushels per acre; South Dakota 23,265,000 and 33.

Nebraska 89,530,000 and 35; Kansas 288,000 and 32; and Oklahoma 74,360,000 and 20.

Protests

government property and the Navy has an obligation to protect the ship."

School children visiting the ship at the time were asked to leave, and the Constitution and the navy yard were closed to the public.

The federal building in downtown St. Paul, Minn., was closed to the public for several hours when 75 antiwar demonstrators blocked its front entrance. Employees were admitted through a rear door.

More than 300 demonstrators were arrested at Westover Air Force Base. Among them were Amherst President John Williams Ward, his wife, and Cornelia Mendenhall, wife of Smith President Thomas Mendenhall. Nearly a score of Amherst faculty members also were taken into custody.

"What I protest is there is no way to protest," Ward said. "I speak out of frustration and deep despair."

Police estimated attendance at an antiwar rally on the steps of the Capitol in Washington at 1,500. The crowd heard speeches by more than a dozen congressmen, including Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Supporters of Nixon's policies gathered later on the capital steps to hear brief speeches by Sen. Robert J. Dole of Kansas, who is the Republican national chairman, and other GOP lawmakers. The crowd of 800 was recruited largely from the staff of the Republican National Committee headquarters and Republican congressional offices.

Santa Barbara demonstrators slowed traffic for a 12-mile stretch there by driving their own cars at a snail's pace.

School Levy Supporters

On behalf of the Concerned Citizens Committee for the school tax levy, the group's chairman, Bill Hiatt, at right, Wednesday received a check for $61.56 from Smith-Cotton High School's student committee for the tax levy.

Presenting the check were two high school seniors, Miss Mary McClure and Keith Hawkins, both of Route 3. The money was raised at a car wash Saturday at the DX station at Broadway and Limit.

Irish Favor Joining The Common Market

DUBLIN (AP) — Ireland Thursday voted overwhelmingly in favor of joining the European Common Market, ending 50 years of isolation and handing a massive rebuff to political leaders of violent nationalism.

The voters were asked to give Prime Minister Jack Lynch constitutional power to take the nation into Europe. They did so with a mighty "yes."

With 35 of the 42 electoral districts counted, the vote was 838,987 in favor and 177,774 against. The "yes" vote was ahead in all remaining districts.

Lynch's Fianna Fail party, the soldiers of destiny, proclaimed "a fantastic victory—we aimed at 2 to 1 in favor but it looks closer to 4 to 1."

The result gives the government power to amend Ireland's 1937 constitution so that laws of the European community will have full force here.

that such classes could only be added through an expanded curriculum that requires more teachers and more money.

Garlich explained that the cooperative learning disability program would become stagnant with a levy defeat. He has recommended that three more classes for the retarded be added to the program, in addition to a learning disability class and a class for the emotionally disturbed. He has also suggested that a full time special education coordinator be hired to oversee the expanded program.
